

PROJECTED BUDGET FOR SEMINAR SPEAKER SUN LAICHEN
4 MARCH 2014

Sponsor: Tonio Andrade, Emory University Department of History

Professor Sun is an expert in Southeast Asian history whose innovative work is transforming the way we understand global military history by focusing on an under-studied topic: the military relations between mainland Southeast Asia and China in the early modern period, 1300-1800. He is scheduled to speak on the evening of 4 March 2013, with his seminar to be followed by a dinner for him and a few select invitees. We are seeking Hightower Funds for Professor Sun's honorarium of $1000. The rest of the event will be paid for by the World History Fund administered by Professor Tonio Andrade in the History Department

BUDGET

Travel, SNA (Orange County Airport) to ATL, Round Trip.....	460
Lodging for two nights	250
Meals (3 days at $50 per day).....	150
Ground transport	150
Refreshments during seminar	100
Dinner for participants	400
Honorarium for Professor Sun	1000
<hr/> Total	$2510
 Total requested from Hightower	$1000
Total to be paid from other sources	$1510